ANCHOR is designed for grade 8 and up and covers all of North Carolina history. It starts from the arrival of the first people some 12,000 years ago and goes to the present. There are eleven parts, organized chronologically, a collection of primary sources, readings, and multimedia that can be rearranged to meet the needs of the classroom. Special web-based tools aid reading and model historical inquiry, helping students build critical thinking and literacy skills.

This resource could not be developed without the help of a great number of partners and contributors. The following organizations and individuals contributed content, and their specific contributions are credited where they appear.
